

Gibson Dunn Appoints D.C. Partner Joshua Lipshutz as First COO

Firm News | May 14, 2021

Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP is pleased to announce that Washington, D.C. partner Joshua Lipshutz has been appointed as the firm's Chief Operating Officer, a newly created position on the firm's Executive Committee. Working alongside Barbara Becker, the newly elected Chair and Managing Partner of Gibson Dunn, Lipshutz will help develop and implement the firm's strategy, oversee the firm's operations, and pursue growth opportunities.

"I'm thrilled that Josh has agreed to help me lead the firm," said Barbara Becker, Chair and Managing Partner of Gibson Dunn. "He has a unique background that combines significant business and finance experience with an extremely successful litigation practice. As the firm's first partner COO, he is well-positioned to help the firm deliver extraordinary value to clients around the globe. We will work together closely in guiding the firm into its next exciting chapter."

"I feel incredibly honored by the trust my partners have placed in me," said Lipshutz. "I'm excited to take on this new challenge and look forward to helping Barbara develop and execute our strategic vision for the firm."

About Joshua Lipshutz

Before practicing law, Lipshutz was an investment professional at Silver Lake Partners and an investment banker at Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. He started his career at Gibson Dunn in 2011 and was promoted to partner in 2015.
