Pauline Portos is an of counsel in the Paris office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher and a member of the firm's Energy & Infrastructure Practice Group.

Pauline specializes in infrastructure and energy transactions as well as M&A transactions in the infrastructure and energy sectors in France and abroad. Her expertise includes both financing and projects matters.

She advises clients ranging from investment funds, debt funds and corporates to financial institutions, multilateral institutions and governments with a particular focus on telecommunications, electric mobility, transport and renewable energy projects.

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Pauline practiced several years in the acquisition financing (LBO) department and the Energy and Infrastructure department of two Magic Circle law firms.

Admitted to the Paris bar in 2014, Pauline holds a Master's degree in Corporate and Tax Law and a Master's degree in Banking and Financial Law from Paris II Panthéon-Assas University.

She speaks French and English fluently.
