

PCAOB Adopts Final Rule on the Holding Foreign Companies Accountable Act

Client Alert | September 30, 2021

---

On September 22, 2021, the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (the "PCAOB") adopted a final rule (the "Final Rule") implementing the Holding Foreign Companies Accountable Act (the "HFCAA"), which became law in December 2020 and prohibits foreign companies from listing their securities on U.S. exchanges if the company has been unavailable for PCAOB inspection or investigation for three consecutive years. The Final Rule (available here) requires U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") approval before it goes into effect.

In May 2021, the SEC adopted interim final amendments (the "Amendments", available here) to certain forms, including Forms 20-F and 10-K, to implement the disclosure and submission requirements of the HFCAA. In June 2021, the Senate passed the Accelerating Holding Foreign Companies Accountable Act (the "AHFCAA"), which, if signed into law, would reduce the time period for the delisting of foreign companies under the HFCAA to two consecutive years, instead of three years.

Three aspects of the HFCAA and the PCAOB's Final Rule should be kept in mind.

Read More

The following Gibson Dunn attorneys assisted in preparing this update: Michael Scanlon, David Lee, David Ware, and Maggie Zhang.

Related Capabilities

Securities Regulation and Corporate Governance

Accounting Firm Advisory and Defense

Related People

Michael Scanlon

David C. Lee

David C. Ware

Maggie Zhang