Webcasts | December 5, 2022

Please join us for this 60-minute program. The panel covers key developments to be aware of headed into the 2022 Form 10-K reporting season, including recent SEC rulemaking and comment letters, disclosure trends and other developments.

PANELISTS: Thomas J. Kim is a partner in the Washington D.C. office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, LLP, where he is a member of the firm's Securities Regulation and Corporate Governance Practice Group. Mr. Kim focuses his practice on a broad range of SEC disclosure and regulatory matters, including capital raising and tender offer transactions and shareholder activist situations, as well as corporate governance, environmental social governance and compliance issues. He also advises clients on SEC enforcement investigations – as well as boards of directors and independent board committees on internal investigations – involving disclosure, registration, corporate governance and auditor independence issues. Mike Titera is a partner in the Orange County office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher and a member of the Firm's Securities Regulation and Corporate Governance Practice Group. His practice focuses on advising public companies regarding securities disclosure and compliance matters, financial reporting, and corporate governance. Mr. Titera often advises clients on accounting and auditing matters and the use of non-GAAP financial measures. He also has represented clients in investigations conducted by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority. Mr. Titera's clients range from large-cap companies with global operations to small-cap companies in the pre-revenue phase. His clients operate in a range of sectors, including the retail, technology, pharmaceutical, hospitality, and financial services sectors. David Korvin is a corporate associate in the Washington, D.C. office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, where he currently practices in the firm's Securities Regulation and Corporate Governance Practice Group. Mr. Korvin advises public companies and their boards with respect to corporate governance, federal securities, financial reporting and accounting, insider trading, stock exchange, shareholder engagement, ESG and executive compensation matters. Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Mr. Korvin was an attorney at the Securities and Exchange Commission in the Division of Corporation Finance, where he handled the legal review of Securities Act and Exchange Act filings and served as a member of the Shareholder Proposal Taskforce.
